

6 Letters

8 President's Message

The ABA Everyday program thanks members with free, daily content.

9 Opening Statements

Anti-puppy mill legislation across the country is dogging pet stores.

10 Concerns over federal law are leaving dead air when it comes to marijuana advertising.

11 New York City litigator starts a new business that collects debts for independent workers.

12 10 questions for the lawyer who uses her love for Star Wars to expand the galaxy of geeks—especially women and girls.

13 Cartoon of the month: Check out last month's contest winner and try crafting a caption for the current cartoon.

14 Short takes and fast facts on the law.

15 Docket

NATIONAL PULSE High court ruling on segregated housing could spark more unintentional-discrimination cases.

17 NATIONAL PULSE Patent holders allege financial companies are misusing post-grant review process for profit.

19 SUPREME COURT REPORT A redistricting case brings federalism, partisan politics, immigration and demography before the justices

22 Practice

ETHICS Two courts agree that lawyers doing debt collection may be regulated by a New York City ordinance.

24 WORDS Take a quiz to test your pronunciation skills against other educated speakers of American English.

26 ADVOCACY How to appear confident and self-assured, even when you don't feel that way.

63 Your ABA

Substance abuse and mental health issues are growing problems for members of the legal profession.

65 The Litigation Section is going on the road to explain changes in the rules of procedure relating to e-discovery.

67 Bipartisan collaboration in the Senate increases chances for a major criminal justice reform act.

71 Obiter

The long arm of the law has been picking up kids raised by proponents of "free-range parenting."

72 Precedents

A legal filing signals the end of the Fab Four.

CRUSADER
Teng Biao says that if he were in China now, he has no doubt he would be arrested.

28

28 Business of Law

HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICE Innocence projects are arising in China to aid the wrongfully convicted.

31 PROFILE California lawyer who turned the tide against trans fats wants to put the brakes on distracted driving.

32 CRIMINAL LAW Release of New Orleans police data draws suspicion, but it helps some defenders.

33 JOBS When the legal job market tanked, a law student changed it by building a network for alternative opportunities.

34 LAW BY THE NUMBERS There's an uptick in e-filing in state and local courts.

35 AMBROGI ON TECH The pros and cons of Cheetah, a new legal research product.