

The American Journal of
COMPARATIVE LAW

---

VOLUME LXV

WINTER 2017

NUMBER 4

---

CONTENTS

Editors' Note The Editors vii

RETROSPECTIVE: JEROME A. COHEN REMEMBERS

- Law And China's "Open Policy":
A Foreigner Present at the Creation Jerome A. Cohen 729
- Pioneering the Study of Chinese Law in the West James V. Feinerman 739
- Safeguarding the Boundaries of Right:
Jerome A. Cohen's Experience with Law in the People's Republic of China Margaret K. Lewis 745

ARTICLES

- The Law of China's Local Government Debt: Local Government
Financing Vehicles and Their Bonds Donald Clarke & Fang Lu 751
- Piercing the Veil of Arbitration Reform in China: Promises, Pitfalls, Patterns,
Prognoses, and Prospects Weixia Gu 799
- "It Must Be Rock Strong!" Guanxi's Impact on Judicial Decision Making in China Xin He & Kwai Hang Ng 841
- CISG in Chinese Courts: The Issue of Applicability Qiao Liu & Xiang Ren 873
- The Codification of Conflicts Law in China:
A Long Way to Go Qingkun Xu 919

BOOK REVIEWS

- Matthew Erie, *China and Islam:
The Prophet, the Party, and Law* Andrea Pin 963
- Jedidiah J. Kroncke, The Futility of Law and Development: China and the Dangers of Exporting American Law Timothy Webster 968